DOCKET NO. 90-604-C- ORDER NO. 91-445
MAY 21, 1991

IN RE: Drafting of Bill of Rights for } ORDER ISSUING
Residential Customers served by } BILL OF RIGHTS
Telecommunications Utilities. }

The Public Service Commission of South Carolina (the Commission) ordered the Commission Staff to draft a “Bill of Rights” for residential customers that set out the customers’ rights under the Commission’s Regulations governing telecommunications utilities.

A draft was prepared by the Commission Staff and sent to the Commission’s jurisdictional telecommunications utilities and the Consumer Advocate of South Carolina for comments. After receiving comments from several parties, the Commission Staff submitted a final draft to the Commission.

The Commission finds that the ”Bill of Rights” submitted by the Commission Staff should be approved. The Commission wants the residential telecommunications customers to be more aware of their rights and of the resources available to them when questions or problems arise in connection with their telecommunications service. The commission hereby requires all jurisdictional telecommunications companies to send each residential customer a copy of the “Bill of Rights” by bill insert and to begin giving all new residential customers a copy of the "Bill of Rights" within ninety (90) days of the date of this Order.

Each company is to certify to the Commission Staff that each present customer was sent a copy of the "Bill of Rights" within sixty (60) days of completion of notification to customers.

BY ORDER OF THE COMMISSION:

Chairman

ATTEST:

BILL OF RIGHTS

The South Carolina Public Service Commission wants telephone utility customers to know their rights and responsibilities and whom to contact for assistance when they have questions or problems. Therefore, the Commission is making this statement available to customers of telephone utilities for which it has regulatory authority.

BE AN INFORMED CUTOMER. KNOW YOUR RIGHTS.

1. As a general rule, you have the right to establish telephone service if you satisfactorily establish your credit and no member of your household is indebted to the telephone utility or any other telephone utility, if you provide the telephone with necessary and reasonable access to your property, if you are within the operating area of the company, and if your utilization does not pose a hazardous or dangerous condition. If you have any questions concerning your right to service, you should contact the telephone utility serving your area.
2. You have the right to advice from your telephone utility as to what facilities and services are available in your area.
3. You have the right to a telephone directory published at regular intervals, listing the name, address and telephone numbers of customers, except public telephone and telephone service unlisted at a customer's request. In the event of an error in your telephone listing, you have the right to request the telephone utility to intercept all calls to the listed number for a reasonable period of time provided existing central office equipment will permit and the number is not in service. In the event of an error or omission in the listing of a customer, such customer's correct name and telephone number shall be in the files of the directory assistance operators.
4. You have the right to establish your credit in any one of the following ways: 1) you may provide a letter of good credit from a reliable source; 2) you may show that you have been a customer of the same telephone utility and have not had two consecutive 30-day arrears, or more than two non-consecutive 30-day arrears in the past 24 months; 3) you may provide a satisfactory guarantor or cosigner, who is also a resident customer of the same telephone utility with good credit, to guarantee payment of your bills if you do not pay them; or 4) you may make a cash deposit with the utility. You have the right to have all means of establishing credit explained to you by the utility's personnel.
5. If you are required to make a cash deposit, the maximum amount cannot exceed an amount equal to an estimated two (2) months (60 days) bill for a new customer or an amount equal to the total actual bills of the highest two (2) consecutive months based on the experience of the preceding six (6) months for an existing customer. If you make a cash deposit with the utility, you have the right to have the deposit returned to you (plus interest at a rate prescribed by the Commission) after two years unless you have has two consecutive 30-day arrears, or more than two non-consecutive 30-day arrears in the past 24 months, or have had service denied or interrupted for non-payment of bills, or have been sent two late payment notices in the past none (9) months, or have had a returned check in the past sex (6) months; or if you discontinue service with telephone utility.

6. You have the right to be notified, in writing, of any proposed changes in rates and charges for your telephone service.
7. You have the right to a timely and accurate bill. You have the right to receive an itemized monthly bill once a year or a verbal itemization upon request. You have the right to receive upon request, information as to the utility's billing procedures, including the increments used for the billing of long distance service.
8. If equal access is available, you have the right to select the Long Distance Carrier of your choice provided the carrier is operating within your service area.
9. You have the right to be given written notice from the utility at least five (5) days before your telephone service can be disconnected for your failure to pay your telephone bill. In cases of extreme risk involving abnormal and excessive use of toll service, service may be denied two (2) days after written notice is given to the customer, unless satisfactory arrangements for payment are made.
10. If the telephone utility has overcharged or undercharged you, and it is found that an error has occurred within six months of the most recent billing, the error shall be corrected, and adjustment made thereof. You have the right to an adjustment for a period that your records or the company's records indicate the error has occurred or for a period as prescribed by the telephone utility tariff on file with the Commission.
11. You have the right to contact the telephone utility at all hours in case of emergency or unscheduled interruptions in your telephone service.
12. You have the right to have any questions or complaints considered by your telephone utility and you have the right to prompt and courteous treatment by the telephone utility.
13. If you need assistance with a complaint against your telephone utility that you cannot resolve by dealing with the telephone utility on your own, you have the right to call on the Utilities Division of the South Carolina Public Service Commission. The Utilities Division will work with you and the telephone utility in an effort to resolve your complaint informally. The Telecommunications Department of the South Carolina Public Service Commission is located in Columbia and can be reached by calling its toll free telephone number 1-800-922-1531 or if from the Columbia area by calling 737-5105.

14. If you are unable to resolve your complaint by working with the telephone utility or with the Commission's Utilities Division, you have a right to file a formal complaint against the telephone utility and request a hearing before the Commission. To file a formal complaint you should set out in writing your name and address, the name of your telephone utility, a clear and concise statement of the factual situation surrounding the complaint and of the nature of the relief sought from the Commission. The complaint should be mailed to the office of the Commission's Executive Director, Post Office Drawer 11649, Columbia, South Carolina 29211. The Commission will schedule a public hearing unless it determines that no reasonable grounds exist for a hearing. At the hearing, both you and the telephone utility can present testimony before the Commission. After hearing the testimony, the Commission will make a decision and issue an Order dealing with your complaint.

This statement gives you a summary of your rights as a customer of a telephone utility regulated by the South Carolina Public Service Commission. More detailed provisions are set out in law, Commission Rules and Regulations, and the Tariffs of the telephone utility. The South Carolina Public Service Commission wants to inform you of your rights as a consumer. Also, the Commission wants you to understand the responsibilities of the telephone utility and your right to call upon the Commission's Utilities Division for assistance.

This program shall not apply to a subscriber who is engaged as a communications common carrier in a public telegram message business, nor to a Data Service Vendor in the provision of data service to its patrons.
- C. In view of the fact that the subscriber has exclusive control of his/her communications over the facilities furnished him/her by the Cooperative, and because of the unavoidableness of errors incident to the services and to the use of such facilities of the Cooperative, the services and facilities furnished by the Cooperative are subject to the terms, conditions and limitations herein specified.

A4. SERVICE CHARGES

A4.4 Termination Charge

A termination charge is determined by applying to the Basic Termination Charge the percentage which the unexpired portion of the initial service period bears to the full initial service period.

The Basic Termination Charge and Initial Service Period are indicated in the section of this Tariff covering the service items to which they apply.

When a subscriber cancels an order for service carrying a Basic Termination Charge prior to the establishment of that service, a termination charge applies equal to the cost incurred by the Cooperative in engineering, ordering and providing the equipment and disposing of it, less credits obtained through disposal; the termination charge in this event will not exceed the Basic Termination Charge.

A4.5 Transfer of Telephone Equipment to a Different Premise

Transfer of telephone service and equipment from one premises to another, or from one location to another on the same premise involving a break in the continuity of service and resulting in a cessation of local service charges are not considered as inside moves, but as new service connections subject to service charges. Equipment associated with such service may at a subscriber's option, be moved (1) subject to regular termination charges, if any, plus any appropriate service and installation charges or (2) the estimated cost of moving the equipment plus any appropriate installation and service charge.

A4.6 Use of Left in Equipment to Provide Service:

Where existing equipment can be used to provide service to a new subscriber without involving a move or change of such equipment the service charges normally applicable for equipment and stations serviced by that system would not apply. Line changes will apply to each Central Office line or equivalent associated with such equipment and a service order charge covering the new contract will be required. A contract for any unexpired termination liability will also be required.

A4.7 Restoration Charge

A5.1.2 General

Construction charges are applicable under certain conditions as hereafter set forth and are in addition to other charges specified in this Tariff.

Poles on private property to be used in serving an individual subscriber will be furnished by the Cooperative at a charge to the subscriber of $1.00 per linear foot for each pole, except that the Cooperative will furnish as many as two poles without charge to the subscriber provided the poles thus furnished are used to carry main line circuits. Ownership and maintenance of such poles are vested in the Cooperative.

Where, for the purpose of furnishing extension lines, it is necessary to lay underground conduit, to trench, or to set poles on the subscriber's premises, the subscriber is required to provide and install such underground conduit, to dig and back fill trenches, and to provide and erect such poles, or the Cooperative will perform the work at the subscriber's expense. A6. DIRECTORY LISTINGS

A6.1 Regulations Applicable to Directory Listings

The rates and regulations specified herein for directory listings apply only to the alphabetical section of the directory.

Listings are intended solely for the purpose of identifying subscriber's telephone numbers and as an aid to the use of telephone service.

The listing of subscribers either without charge or at the rate specified herein for additional listings in the alphabetical section of the directory does not contemplate special prominence of arrangement.

Listings must conform to the Cooperative's specifications with respect to the directories.

The Cooperative reserves the right to limit the length of any listing to one line in the directory by use of abbreviations when in its judgement the clearness of the listing and the identification of the subscriber is not impaired thereby.

Except as hereinafter provided only one listing is furnished without charge for each main service, joint user service, PABX system, or Centrex; where a number of main services are provided in a hunt group they are considered as one service. If additional listings are required to properly identify the subscriber, such additional listings may be provided without charge to the extent that the number of listings does not exceed the number of main station lines.

Additional listings on hunt groups usually bear the call number of the first line of the hunt group, but at the subscriber's request they may bear any one of the hunt group numbers.

Street numbers or RFD route number, followed by the street name or post office designation as applicable, will be used in identifying the location of the subscriber except when in the judgment of the Cooperative names of the Communities serve as a better means of identification.

Listings are not provided in connection with public telephone service. Listings in connection with semi-public telephone service are furnished under the same rates and regulations as other business services.

A11.4.2 Provision of Service

The provision of these features is limited to those areas served by Central Offices arranged for Custom Calling Features and Advanced Calling Features.

The following Advanced Calling Features are furnished only in connection with individual line service:

1. Automatic Redial: The subscriber can dial a code which facilitates the continuous attempt to redial a busy number. When that line becomes available a special ringing signal is given to the calling party and upon his answering this signal, the telephone switch will complete the call to the previously busy line. (aka Repeat Dialing)
2. Automatic Call Return: The subscriber can dial a code on his telephone that will facilitate the placement of a call to the last party who called/attempted to call that subscriber. (aka Call Return)
3. Call Identification: Allows a subscriber to view a calling party's number before answering the call. The caller's name is sent to and displayed on customer provided equipment.
4. Call Identification Blocking: This feature allows a subscriber to designate (C) his directory number and name private and restrict its availability and delivery to the called party. Call Identification blocking is provided to all subscribers on a per call basis at no charge. To activate this feature there must be a two (2) digit number dialed prior to placing a call.
5. Priority Ringing: Allows subscribers to program their telephone to ring distinctively whenever called from a number on a pre-determined list. A normal ring pattern will be experienced from any caller not on that list. This feature has an identical effect on the Call Waiting tone for those subscribing to both services.

A11. MISCELLANEOUS SERVICE ARRANGEMENTS

6. Preferred Call Forwarding: Allows the subscriber to create a list of specified numbers that will be forwarded to a designated forward-to number. Calls from directory numbers not on the list will ring in the normal fashion.
7. Call Screening: Allows a subscriber to develop a list of directory numbers from which he will not accept/will only accept calls. The rejection/acceptance list is maintained by the subscriber and the feature can be turned off and on at the subscriber's discretion. Rejected calls are routed to a rejection announcement.
8. Calling Name Deliver: Allows a subscriber who prerequisite subscribes to Call Identification to not only see the number from which he is receiving a call but also the directory name associated with that particular calling number. The name is displayed on customer provided equipment.

All subscribers have available to them, on a per call basis, the ability to alter their individual ANI transmission status through the Calling Identity Delivered and Suppression feature. If their line is normally transmitting their directory name and number, they can block it from being sent on a per call basis by dialing *67 before placing each call. If their line is normally blocked from transmitting directory name and number (they subscribe to Call Identification Blocking) they can send this information on a per call basis by dialing *82 before placing each call.

9. Anonymous Call Rejection: enables a called party to reject calls from a caller who has designated his directory number as private. The calling party will receive a recorded announcement indicating that the person they are calling does not wish to receive calls from callers who choose to block their number. The called part does not receive any indication of rejected calls.
10. Call Waiting ID: Allows a subscriber who has prerequisite subscribed to both Call Waiting and Call Identification to have Call Identification information delivered when the called part is off-hook. The information will be delivered with the Call Waiting tone.
11. Call Waiting / Call Waiting Cancel: By means of a tone signal, a subscriber who is using his telephone is alerted when another caller is trying to reach the station. Permits putting the first call on hold so the second can be answered. This feature is Cooperative activated. Call Waiting Cancel allows the subscriber, on a per call basis, to cancel the call waiting feature by dialing an access code. Call Waiting capabilities are automatically restored as the call is terminated.

A18. SPECIAL SERVICE ARRANGEMENT

A18.1 Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) –
Primary Rate Interface (PRI) - Client Logic Corp.

A18.1.1 General

Integrated Service Digital Network (ISDN) – Primary Rate Interface (PRI) is a central office based service arrangement that can be utilized for the customer for the transport of various individual access services.

ISDN-PRI is provisioned as a clear channel 1.544 megabit per second (Mbps) facility and uses the ISDN architecture of 23 “B” (Bearer) channels and one “D” (Delta) channel or 24 “B” channels. This facility will provide the customer with a capable element for simultaneous access, transmission and switching of voice, data and imaging traffic via channelized transport.

B channel – a bi-directional synchronous channel capable of digital transmission speeds of 64 kilobits per second (Kpbs). Each individual “B” channel can be configured to transport circuit-switched voice, circuit-switched data, or alternate circuit-switched voice/data traffic types.

D Channel – this single 64Kbps channel on the facility that provides signaling and control functions for the “B” channels. One “D” channel can control up to 20 PRI trunks of which one trunk would contain the “D” channel and 23 “B” channels while the other trunks would be provisioned with 24 “B” channels.

This Tariff provides for PRI switching capabilities only. Additional services, if desired, must be subscribed to under other sections of this Tariff. Each ISDN-PRI trunk group will be provided with one telephone number. Additional numbers or DID service may be purchased as specified elsewhere in this Tariff.

A18. SPECIAL SERVICE ARRANGEMENT

A18.1 Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) Primary Rate Interface (PRI) - Client Logic Corp.

A18.1.2 Regulations and Conditions

The regulations and rates expressed herein are in addition to all applicable regulations and rates specified in other sections of this tariff unless otherwise specified.

ISDN-PRI as provided for in this Tariff, is only to be used in the provisioning of a user-to-network interface.

ISDN-PRI service is furnished at the option of the Cooperative. These services are furnished subject to central office switching capability, capacity, and the availability of outside plant facilities meeting the criterion for ISDN-PRI service.

Customer Premise Equipment (CPE) compatibility is the responsibility of the user. CPE must be compliant with the NI-2 specification. Any exception or deviation requiring custom switch features that are not NI-2 compliant will be supported as an exception, solely at the discretion of the Cooperative and will be priced on an individual case basis.

The Cooperative shall not be held responsible to the customer if any changes in equipment, operations, or procedures of the Cooperative render the CPE obsolete or requiring modification or alteration or otherwise affect its use or performance.

This Tariff does not provide for the transmission of packet data on the "B" or "D" channels.

ISDN-PRI Access is offered for a minimum contract period of one year. Early termination liability charges shall be equal to the monthly access rate times the number of months remaining in the contract.

A24. ENHANCED NETWORK SERVICES

A24.1 Frame Relay Service

A24.1.1 General

Frame Relay Service is a high speed packet data network service that permits the transmission of data at speeds of either 56kbps or 1.536 Mbps using Permanent Virtual Circuits (PVCs).

Permanent Virtual Circuits (PVCs) are logical circuits that define a specific one-way path for data sent by the customer to another location. These circuits are virtual because they are established in software and do not occupy capacity when not in use.

Frame Relay Service as provided by the Cooperative conforms to the standards set forth ANSI T1.617.1991; T1.618.1991.

Frame Relay Service will be offered at applicable rates subject to availability of facilities and central office equipment as determined by the Cooperative. This section of this Tariff only addresses User-to-Network interface (UNI) arrangements as defined by the Frame Relay Forum Document FRF.1.

A24.1.2 Explanation of Terms

Frame – A sequence of contiguous bits defined by beginning and ending flag sequences.

Frame Relay Access Line – physically provisioned access to the Frame Relay Service Network. Certain Cooperative locations are designated as Frame Relay Service Access Points (FRSAP). Frame Relay Access Lines can only be provisioned to the customer within the confines of the associated serving wire center of that FRSAP. Customers outside those boundaries will be transported via Frame Relay Extension Line (FREL) or digital private line facilities.

Permanent Virtual Circuit (PVC) – the end-to-end, software defined, logical channel from one FR port to another FR port in the Frame Relay Service Network. PVC's are sized on ports relative to the customer's data transmission requirements. The actual throughput have aggregated PVC bandwidths in use at the same time actual throughout of aggregated PVC bandwidths in use at the same time on the same port cannot exceed the port speed. The PVC must be associated with at least one Frame Relay Port. A Frame Relay Port can be associated with any number of PVCs. No PVC can have a greater bandwidth than the bit rate of the associated port.

Port – The physical entry point for Frame Relay Access Lines. A port is also the originating and terminating points for PVCs.

Data Link Connection Identifier (DLCI) – FR service standard which specifies a particular user-to-network interface. One DLCI is included with each customer connection. When any two DLCIs are mapped together, a PVC can be created.

Committed Information Rate (CIR) – Enables the customer to select a level of sustained throughput under normal conditions. A CIR must be selected for each DLCI. The CIR cannot exceed the maximum transmission speed of the link at either end of the PVC.

A24.1.3 Regulations and Conditions

The Cooperative will furnish, operate, and maintain network equipment suitable for Frame Relay Service. The Cooperative shall not be held responsible for the transmission of signals provided by Customer Provided Equipment (CPE), nor the reception of those signals by such equipment or systems.

The Cooperative undertakes the responsibility to maintain and repair the service which it furnishes. In order to maintain a quality Frame Relay Service (FRS), the Cooperative reserves the right to perform preventative maintenance and software upgrades. This could result in FRS being unavailable during those times for a minimal period. Network equipment installed by the Cooperative, on customer premises, is not to be tampered with in any way without prior written consent of Farmers Telephone Cooperative, Inc.

The Cooperative shall not be held responsible to the customer if any changes in equipment, operations, or procedures of the Cooperative renders CPE obsolete or requiring modification or alteration or otherwise affect its use or performance.

The Customer is responsible for installation, operation and maintenance of any terminal equipment, data unit, or communications system provided by the customer.

The Customer shall be responsible for determining the technological compatibility's of CPE in relation to the Frame Relay Service standards set forth in FRF.1. It is also the Customer's responsibility to insure that the CPE, nor its specific use, does not interfere with the service offered by the Cooperative.

The Customer's Frame Relay compatible terminal equipment shall be responsible for error correction. Frame Relay Service nodes may discard frames with errors and may discard frames when the network supporting Frame Relay Service is in a state of congestion. CPE is responsible for the re-transmission of those discarded frames.

The regulations and rates expressed herein are in addition to applicable regulations and rates specified in other Sections of this Tariff unless otherwise excluded.

When a customer orders a Permanent Virtual Circuit (PVC) which provides for data transmission into the Frame Relay network of another LEC or IXC, the Cooperative will provide advisory assistance in the establishment of that PVC.

The Customer shall be responsible for a CPE Maintenance of Service charge at the Cooperative's established rates for each visit by the Cooperative to the customer, where the service difficulty or trouble report results from the use of equipment or facilities provided by the customer.

The maximum number of PVC terminations per port is subject to the characteristics of the Customer's data traffic. Therefore; the number of PVC terminations must be negotiated between the Customer and the Cooperative prior to ordering of service.

The default Committed Information Rate (CIR) for Frame Relay Service is zero. CIR, which is set for each DLCI, enables sustained throughput during normal conditions. Rates for customers requiring greater than zero CIR will be negotiated and filed on an individual case basis.

Actual data transmission speeds may be affected by network elements outside the control of the Cooperative.

Temporary suspension of Frame Relay Service is not allowed.

A24.1.4 Rates and Charges

A. The minimum service period for Frame Relay Service is one month based on a month-to-month contract period. Contract periods of 12 months and 36 months are also available. The customer must specify his desired contract period at the time a firm order for service is placed.

The termination of Frame Relay Service, by the customer, prior to the end of a specified contract period, does not remove the customer from his financial obligations relative to that contract. Termination charges as set forth below, will apply based on the remainder of the contract period in effect at the time of termination.

One Year Contract – Customer is held liable for 50% of any remaining portion due under that contract.

Three Year Contract – Customer is held liable for 50% of any remaining portion of the current contract year's obligation as well as 10% of the contract periods financial obligations beyond that year.

The Frame Relay Access Line, Port and PVC can all be ordered as a package or separately. Connection to the Frame Relay Service network can be made via the Frame Access line, or FR Access Line and FR Extension Line, digital private line of the Cooperative, or digital private line of another. Each of those connections will require the provisionment of a port and PVC for service functionality.

If a Customer utilizes the above mentioned private line facilities to connect to the FRS Network, the associated rates and regulations for that service will be applicable.

A FRS Customer whose serving wire center is not designated as FRSAP (Frame Relay Service Access Point), will incur either a Frame Relay Extension Line charge in addition to the FR Access Line or digital private line charges and port charges depending on his requested method of provisionment.

Additional PVCs can be ordered for a Frame Relay Port so as to provide for a Customer's multi-location networking needs. Each additional PVC beyond the one initially provisioned with the port carries both a non-recurring and a monthly charge.

A25. INTEGRATED SERVICES DIGITAL NETWORK

A25.1 Integrated Service Digital Network (ISDN) (O) Basic Rate Interface (BRI)

A25.1.1 General

ISDN provides an end-to-end digital communications path that provides the ability to transmit data and voice over the same telephone line simultaneously. This functionality is provided via channelized transport facilities.

ISDN service can be used in conjunction with a customer's residential service, individual business line, or Centrex service. The ISDN-BRI (Basic Rate Interface) arrangement uses only one physical line to provision two communications channels called Bearer, or B Channels. Another channel, called the Delta or D channel is provisioned on the same single physical line. The complete ISDN-BRI facility is known as 2B+D.

B Channel – The B Channel is a bi-directional synchronous channel capable of digital transmission speeds of 64 kilobits per second (kbps). Each B Channel may be configured in one of the following ways:

Circuit-Switched Voice – allows the user to originate and receive voice calls only, utilizing a single circuit-switched B Channel.

Circuit-Switched Data – allows the user to originate and receive data calls only, utilizing a single circuit-switched B Channel.

Alternate Circuit-Switched Voice/Data – allows the user to originate and receive either voice or data calls over a single B Channel, but not simultaneously.

*Note – for the purposes of all ISDN applications other than those related to ISDN-Centrex, all ISDN-BRI lines will be configured and priced according to the 2B+D model. Both B Channels will be configured to be alternate circuit-switched voice/data capable.

D Channel – the D Channel is a 16kbps digital signaling channel that carries signaling and control for the B Channels.

All ISDN-BRI lines consist of central office equipment and outside plant facilities extending from the Cooperative's switching equipment to the customer's point of demarcation.

Telephone Numbers

Primary Telephone Numbers – each B Channel of an ISDN-BRI line includes a single primary telephone number. On a 2B+D ISDN line, calls are routed to the appropriate terminal device (voice telephone, fax, computer modem) based on the call type on the ISDN-BRI line.

Secondary Telephone Numbers – An ISDN line may have additional telephone numbers that are capable of originating and receiving calls independent of the Primary Telephone Number; however, each B Channel is allowed only one simultaneous circuit connections at a time. User's are limited to 4 telephone numbers (primary & secondary) per B Channel.

A25.1.2 Regulations and Conditions

The regulations and rates expressed herein are in addition to all applicable regulations and rates specified in other Sections of this Tariff unless otherwise excluded.

Customer Premise equipment compatibility is the responsibility of the user. All equipment used to interface with this service is required to conform with National ISDN guidelines. The Customer is responsible for installation, operation and maintenance of any terminal equipment, data unit, or communications system provided by the Customer.

The Cooperative shall not be held responsible to the customer if any changes in equipment, operations, or procedures of the Cooperative render the CPE obsolete or requiring modification or alteration or otherwise affective its use or performance.

A25.3 Integrated Service Digital Network (ISDN) Primary Rate Interface (PRI)

A25.3.1 General

ISDN PRI is a local and or Intra-LATA offering supported by the Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) architecture.

ISDN PRI provides an ISDN based, DS1 access to the telecommunications network and includes the flexibility of integration of multiple voice and/or data transmission channels on the same line. The service will provide connectivity between ISDN compatible Customer Premise Equipment (CPE) and a serving central office. The basic channel structure for ISDN PRI is twenty-three 64 Kbps B Channels and one 64 Kbps D Channel. The 23 B Channels can be used to connect the customer's CPE to the Public Circuit Switched Network (e.g., outward, inward, and 2 way network access). Calling Number Delivery, Called Number Delivery, and Hunting functionality are inherent to this service. One Directory Listing will be furnished at no charge to each ISDN PRI B Channel. Additional listings can be obtained as specified in section 6 of this Tariff.

ISDN PRI provides capability for the transmission of digital signals only. Clear Channel Capability and Extended Superframe Format are inherent to the service.

For Intra-LATA offerings Interoffice Channels will be furnished between central offices and charged at rates based on airline distance between the central offices.

Unless otherwise specified, the regulations for ISDN PRI stated herein apply in addition to the regulations set forth in Section 2 of this Tariff.

Customer Premise Equipment (CPE) that is compatible with the ISDN PRI interface is the responsibility of the customer.

Suspension of service is not allowed.

Verification and Emergency Interrupt service is not available.
